FOREWORD

As the 1968-69 school year began, Garfield was plagued by a series of disturbances. By having pride in our school, in ourselves, and most of all, in each other, the student body united to make this a year of excitement and success.

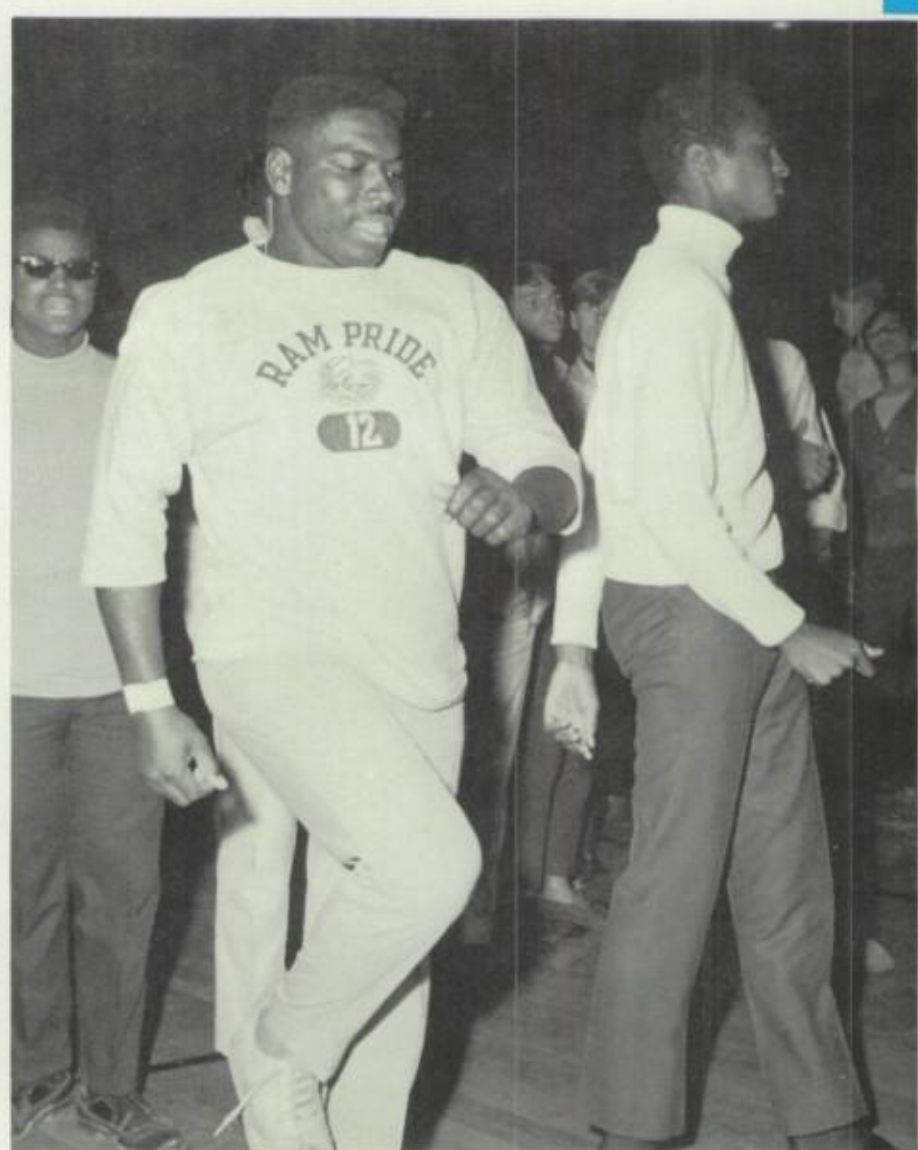

Throughout this book, we have tried to illustrate RAM-PRIDE in all its forms. Yet, no matter how well-organized, this book serves only as a record of the school year. As you scan these pages for familiar sights, it is your choice to let this book mean something more. We hope it will serve the seniors as warm memories of a great year gone by, and underclassmen as a guide to the future.

As the secretaries of Garfield High School Mrs. McNeil, Mrs. Luxon, and Mrs. Stadvec form an indispensable part of school management. Cooperating with the school administration, they handle Garfield's communications and office work.

Working through the summer months, they have provided our school with a smooth running foundation. In addition to these three efficient secretaries, our office also employs students to aid the administration during school hours.

Senior Class Officers Promote Unity

Seniors Diane Marcelli, Patty Hunt, Ruth Huff, Keith Riley and Kerry Marzick are near despair seconds before the winning touchdown at the Homecoming game against Kenmore.

In a close race held last May, Ken Wilson was elected to serve as the 1968-69 Senior Class President. He and the other officers have devoted their time for their class. Not only have they served as class officers, but they have also been involved in many other school and community activities. Working both during and after school, these officers have served their class well.

The Senior Class Cabinet aids their officers and serves the class by performing much of the background work for all senior class activities. Many hours were spent by the Cabinet and their various committees in helping to unite their class for a year of achievement and success.

Students Of The Year

Students of the Year are chosen by members of their selective departments. Awards are based on character, grades, and ability in the respective fields. The yearbook is not involved in the selecting process, only in the publication of the results.

Some categories have more than one student because candidates ranked equally in the eyes of their departments. New categories have also been added so that all areas of our educational system are covered.

Garfield High School
September 12, 1968

Senior Men:

We have waited two years to achieve the leadership of Garfield High. Today our class as well as our school is threatened by a minority of outsiders and uninformed people.

Many of these instigators are underclassmen who have had neither the time nor the patience to accept Garfield as the great school it is. These students are bitter because they have been taught by a few ambitious adults who are also uninformed of Garfield's student "togetherness."

As Senior Men we carry the burdens of adulthood. The day we receive our diplomas our responsibilities will increase greatly.

I implore you to keep Garfield High School the "pride of Akron."

This is our school and we are its leaders. If we get together and bear the burdens and responsibilities of leadership gallantly, we will stand as an example, as did each class before us.

...Performance

Owen Parkside, town playboy, instructs Jenny on applying make-up.

Under the direction of Mr. William Waggoner the class of 1968 presented "Jenny Kissed Me", on April 4, 5, and 6. The comedy was written by Jean Kerr a successful Broadway playwright.

When Mrs. Deazy's orphan niece comes to live in the rectory, where her aunt is the housekeeper, Father Moyihan is not prepared for the changes that must be made. In order to marry off Jenny, the orphan piece, Father Moyihan introduces her to the town playboy. Also trying for Jenny's attention is Michael, a young educator.

While trying to decide what to do with Jenny, Father Moyihan is also troubled with a grumbling housekeeper, a bothersome spinster, and the school girls. Despite Father Moyihan, his problems and Jenny the 1968 Senior Class Play provided an enjoyable evening for all.

Linda Nolan applies the finishing touches on Mrs. Deazy.

Lynda Steidl was captain of this year's line which included Pam Parry, senior; Sue Johns, and Sonya Hosey, juniors.

The Lettergirls also were involved in many money-making projects such as car washes, bake sales, and a fruit punch sale. To learn new steps and routines they attended an area dance school. The Lettergirls who are the only line of its kind in Akron were captained by senior Claudia Stocker. Seniors returning from last year include Bev Beavers, Judi Czerwinski, and Pat Fiegly. Others on the line are seniors Nancy East, Glenda Allen, and Cathy Pinkus; and juniors, Sally Dieringer, Kathy Savage, Laura Fuller, and Laura Thrasher.

The Crucible. . .

Based on historical fact, Arthur Miller's play, "The Crucible", portrays the ignorance and intolerance that resulted in the witch trials and hangings of Salem, Massachusetts in 1692. This play presents the ghastly injustice that existed in the court systems in the early history of our country. This was a grim chapter in the life of early America, and all of the characters in "The Crucible" are based on actual personages. The play points out a parallel between Salem and our modern political witch hunts; and shows how malice and hysteria, intolerance and bigotry gain control and restrain our freedom.

Abigail Williams and Mrs. Putnam make a last desperate attempt to revive Betty Paris.

Rita Davison, Sally Dieringer, and Rosemary Armstrong await their cues backstage.

OFFENSIVE TEAM: Garfield's Golden Rams offensive team exploded for 314 points in ten games. The Rams were led by senior backfield men, Dale Marino, who threw for 14 touchdowns and completed 61% of his passes, and Ernie Calhoun, who scored 100 points and carried for 1100 yards.

City Champions

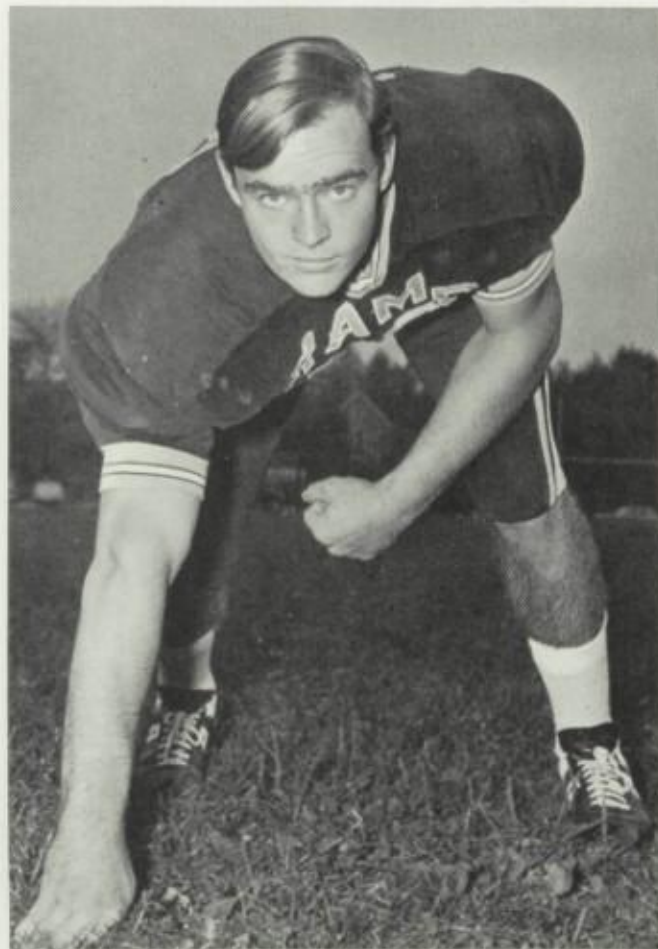

DEFENSIVE TEAM: Garfield's top rated defense held its opponents to only 70 points. The defense scored 24 points themselves on two TD interception returns by Dave Alexander, one by John McGraw, and a blocked punt and fumble recovery by Steve Craig. During the season the proud defense shut out four teams.

1968 HOMECOMING QUEEN AND COURT

Beverly Beavers, crownbearer, and April Tilenni, crowner, take part in the regal festivities.

Camelot Theme

The Homecoming week-end at Garfield High began Friday morning, October 25, with the annual Homecoming Talent Assembly. That evening the student body waited with anticipation as Miss Debbie Davis was announced as the 1968 Homecoming Queen and was crowned by senior, Miss April Tilenni. Escorted to the field by their fathers, other attendants were seniors, Beverly Beavers, Cathy Pinkus, and Cheryl Williamson; juniors, Rosemary Armstrong, Kathy Di Salvo, and Sue Johns; and sophomores, Shelia McNeil, and Adrian Stokes. A spirited victory over Kenmore topped the crowning which took place at the Rubber Bowl during halftime.

A dance the following evening from 8 to 11 climaxed a wonderful week-end as the queen, her court, and their guests danced to the music of the Carl Michael's Orchestra and the theme of Camelot.

As her father adjusts her crown, the Queen carries the traditional white football off the field.

Sue Johns, Lynda Steidl, and Pam Parry await performance time at the assembly.

The '68-'69 basketball team started off the season slowly, winning only 2 out of its first 7 games. The team was winless in City Series competition and appeared out of play-off contention. Before the Buchtel game of January 3rd, Coach Knight altered the starting lineup by moving Phil Marzick to a forward position and inserting Charlie Wharton at guard. The team then won five straight City Series games to finish third in the standings. In the first round of the playoffs the Rams defeated top-seeded Central 44-43 on two last second foul shots by Al Smith. In the championship game against highly favored Firestone, Garfield, with a strong shooting performance by Phil Marzick, carried the game into overtime before dropping a 59-58 decision. This was the first time since 1953 that Garfield made it to the championship game.

Grapplers loosen up.

This year's grapplers coming from a good season last year had a little disappointment this year with a 5-6 regular season record. This record however didn't reflect the true depth of our wrestlers. It's shown in their placing second in the Hudson Tournament, and seventh in the District Match, taking into consideration the youth of the team. Coach Pier and Coach McGee say that next year's team is expected to come through with a good season with eight lettermen.

In the post season Sectional Tournament the Rams won two games before being eliminated. Their composite record was 12 wins, seven losses and one tie. Outstanding for Garfield was outfielder - first baseman Gary Taylor who was a member of the All-City team.

The Garfield Swim Team held their meets at the Firestone High School Natatorium. The team, coached by Mr. Blumenthaler, took part in events such as the backstroke, butterfly, breaststroke, and the free-style. Although the team had a 1-8 record there were only four seniors on the team and they are looking forward to a very successful season next year. The outstanding swimmer was junior John Thomas who set a new school record in winning the butterfly event.

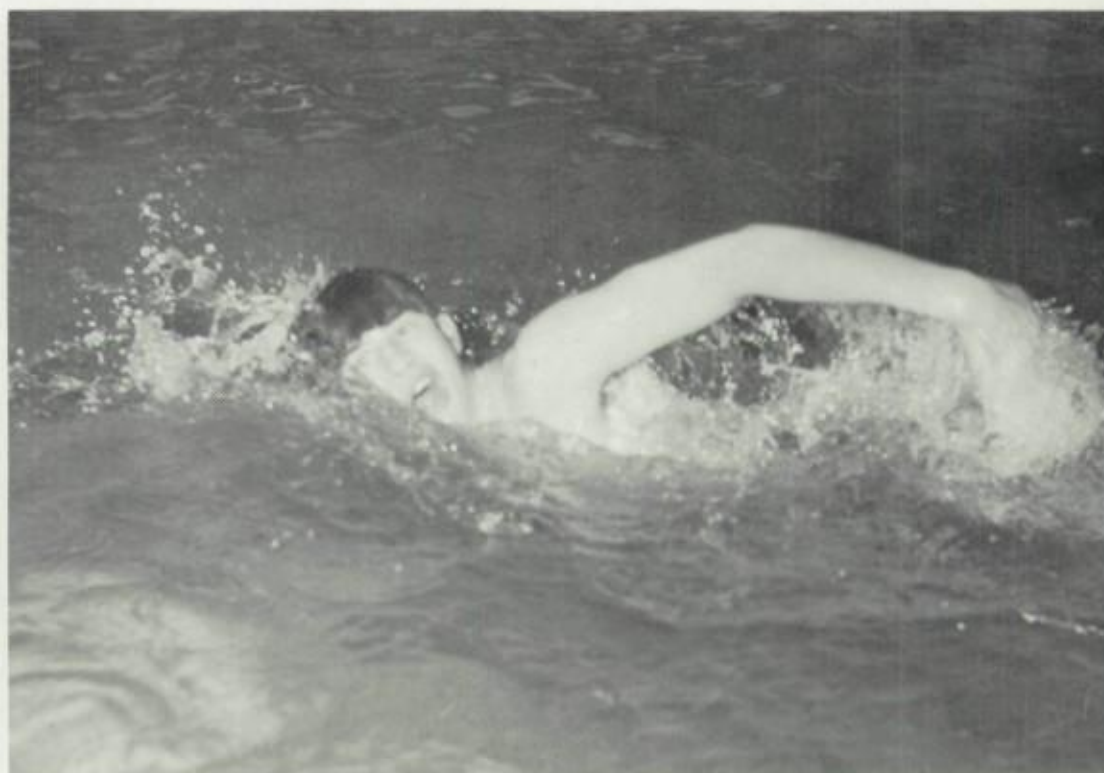

Senior swimmers were team nucleus.

Yesterday . . . When . . .

"Yesterday" was the theme of the 1968 Senior Prom which was held in the ballroom of the Sheraton Hotel. Couples danced to the music of Denny Thompson's Orchestra. Amid decorations of maroon and white the class colors. Seniors waited for the final hours of dancing. The after-prom which was held at Montrose lasted until early morning. Thus concluding a wonderful memory for the Graduating Class of 1968.

Class president Dan Moldea, center, listens as fellow class members speak of the future.

Tom Stephens, Judy Flossie, and Dave Looney provide thoughtful moments of times remembered by all.

As the banquet opened graduating members eagerly awaited the coming festivities.

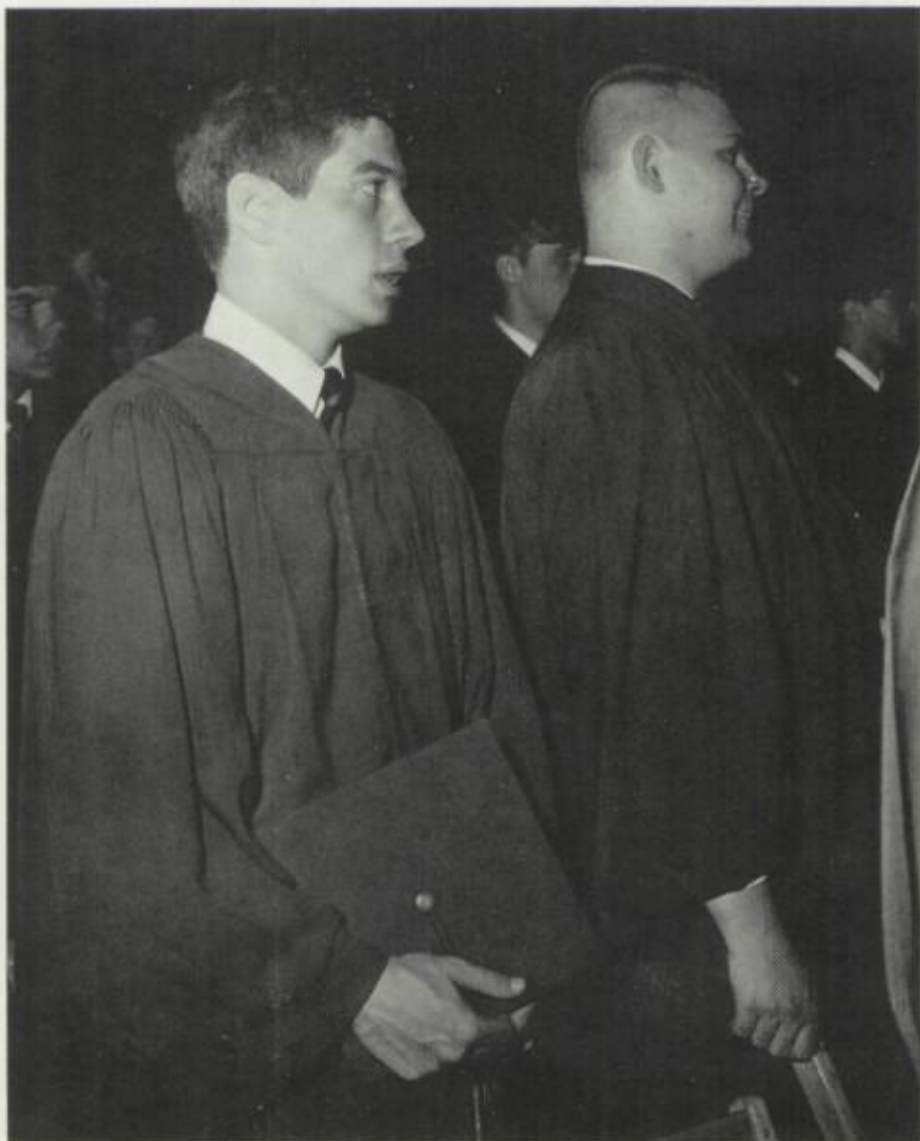

Graduating seniors found time for amusement as the 1968 Prom and Banquet came to a close.

Tom Clevenger completes his duties as Student Council President with a final speech to the class.

"Sit down, be quiet, and get to work!" were the words most often heard slipping out of Room 1 just before the door was slammed. The bell rang fifteen minutes ago, but someone's still combing her hair, physics books start to appear, and English tests are being studied for. Sooner or later these students remember why they are here. Pictures begin to be seen, math books start to close, and the Yearbook Staff begins to work.

Though most days began in a midst of confusion of what pictures are where? whose layout is this? why don't we have any rulers? and is that kid who just walked in on the staff? — everything was completed. Pictures were found, copy was written, and those all-important deadlines were met. Some staff members stayed after school to help organize group shots, many worked at home and on weekends, and others even came in during their extra study halls to help.

The purpose of a yearbook is to accurately record the events of a school year from the students' point of view. It's not to see how many pictures can be crowded on a page, or whose arm is sticking out behind whose head. There are many who won't like the new changes or decide that this year's cover is "ghastly". Although no production can expect to be free from criticism, each year the staff hopes to experiment with new ideas in new areas.

This year we have chosen RAMPRIDE as our theme because we felt it best expressed what made Garfield High School everything it is. Through pictures and words a yearbook is supposed to arouse the emotions, sensations, and feelings that were part of everyday life at school. We could only take the pictures and write the words in the best way possible. It's up to you to do the rest.
